Re: Sears Holdings Corp., et al. v. Lampert, et al., Case No. 19-08250 (RDD)
(the “Adversary Proceeding”)

Dear Judge Drain:

On behalf of Plaintiffs in the above-captioned Adversary Proceeding, we write in connection with Defendants’ pending motions to dismiss. As the Court is aware, Defendants argued in their motions to dismiss and at oral argument that the distribution of the Seritage Rights<sup>1</sup> is a safe-harbored transaction under 11 U.S.C. § 546(e) because of the purported involvement of Computershare Trust Company, N.A. (“Computershare Trust”) as “agent” for Sears Holding Corporation (“Sears”). Plaintiffs made no effort to plead around or otherwise anticipate this argument in the First Amended Complaint, and never mentioned any Computershare entity or the identity of any third parties involved in the distribution of the Seritage Rights.

Nevertheless, in support of their 12(b)(6) motion, Defendants relied on certain documents—principally, the “Subscription Agent Agreement”—to try to establish that Computershare Trust conducted various activities for Sears and was therefore Sears’s agent. Plaintiffs argued in response, among other things, that the documents on which Defendants rely (improperly) are ambiguous as to which Computershare entity—Computershare Trust or Computershare, Inc.—was contractually obligated to perform particular services for Sears, let alone whether either entity actually performed such services, and that discovery and a more complete record was necessary to resolve this issue. At oral argument, Plaintiffs advised the Court that the discovery received to that point indicated that Sears’s transfer of the Seritage Rights was in fact aided by Computershare, Inc., not Computershare Trust (a point defendants did not dispute at oral argument), and requested that the Court either deny the motion or convert it to one for summary judgment under Bankruptcy Rule 7012(b). See Aug. 19, 2020 Hr'ng Tr., at 186:9-13; 195:20-23.

In the time since oral arguments have concluded, Plaintiffs have uncovered additional documents in discovery revealing that Computershare Trust does not appear to have conducted activities in the Seritage Rights Offering that would make it Sears's agent, as Defendants contend.

First, Plaintiffs have located an agreement between Georgeson, Inc. ("Georgeson")—a wholly-owned subsidiary of Computershare Ltd.—and Sears, pursuant to which Georgeson was to act as Sears's "Information Agent" and provide services to Sears that included "dissemination of Offer documents to registered holders of Sears Holdings common stock."<sup>2</sup> Like Computershare, Inc., Georgeson is not a bank or trust company and its activities as a potential agent of Sears could not make Sears a "financial institution" under 11 U.S.C. § 101(22). The apparent involvement of yet another entity in the Seritage transaction—not mentioned anywhere by Defendants in their motion—further supports Plaintiffs' argument that this issue cannot be resolved on a motion to dismiss. Indeed, Georgeson's apparent role as the party responsible for disseminating Rights Offering documents to Sears's shareholders plainly contradicts Defendants' representation to the Court that "Computershare Trust Company, N.A. . . . distributed [the Rights] to Sears' shareholders."<sup>3</sup>

Second, since oral argument, Plaintiffs have uncovered records of wire transfers in connection with the Seritage Rights Offering that specifically list Computershare, Inc. as the originator, not Computershare Trust.<sup>4</sup> In other words, these documents suggest that Computershare, Inc. was the entity that transferred to Sears and its subsidiaries the funds raised from the exercise of the Seritage Rights in connection with the Seritage Transaction. This too

<sup>4</sup> See Exhibit 2, attached hereto. These documents were also produced by Transform without Bates stamps, but were given the control numbers CNTRL-02310265, CNTRL-02310266, and CNTRL-06556206. contradicts the factual claims made by defendants in their motion that Computershare Trust was responsible for handling the funds raised by the equity subscriptions.<sup>5</sup>

Plaintiffs respectfully contend that Defendants' motions to dismiss must be denied to the extent based on section 546(e).<sup>6</sup> And even if the Court concludes otherwise, Plaintiffs could, if required, now affirmatively plead, by way of an amendment to the relevant counts, that no bank, trust company, or financial institution acted as Sears's agent in connection with the Seritage Rights Offering.

Sincerely,

/s/ David M. Zensky

<sup>5</sup> See ESL Br. at 24 ("To consummate the Seritage Rights Offering, Computershare [Trust] was required to hold [the] funds [paid by the Sears shareholders] in payment for [the Seritage] shares in escrow . . . pending completion of the rights offering' . . .").

<sup>6</sup> To be clear, Plaintiffs are not asking the Court to make any factual findings or rule on the ultimate merits of Defendants' alleged safe-harbor defense based upon the documents attached hereto or any other documents on the current record; rather, the documents attached hereto are meant to further support Plaintiffs' argument that it is premature and procedurally inappropriate to determine at this stage whether Sears may be considered a financial institution because of the purported involvement of Computershare Trust.

This Letter of Agreement, including the Appendix attached hereto (collectively, this "Agreement"), sets forth the terms and conditions of the engagement of Georgeson Inc. - (c) Expenses. In addition to the fees and charges described in paragraphs (b) and (d) hereof, Georgeson shall charge the Company, and the Company shall be solely responsible, for the following reasonable and properly documented costs and expenses (collectively, the "Expenses"):

provided, that Georgeslon shall notify the Company prior to incurring any reimbursable fees and expenses in excess of an aggregate of $2,500.

The Company shall pay all applicable taxes (other than income taxes) incurred in connection with the delivery of the Services or Expenses.

- (d) Custodial Charges. Georgeslon agrees to check, itemize and pay on the Company's behalf the charges of brokers and banks, for forwarding the Company's offering material to beneficial owners.   - (ii) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, but without limiting the Company's indemnification obligations set forth in clause (i) above, neither party shall be liable for any incidental, indirect, special or consequential damages of any nature whatsoever, including, but not limited to, loss of anticipated profits, occasioned by a breach of any provision of this Agreement, even if apprised of the possibility of such damages.

- (iii) Any liability whatsoever of Georgeslon, its affiliates or any of their respective stockholders, officers, directors, employees or agents hereunder or otherwise relating to or arising out of performance of the Services will be limited in the aggregate to three times the fees and charges paid hereunder by the Company to Georgeslon.
  - (iv) This paragraph (f) shall survive the termination of this Agreement.
- (g) Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by the substantive laws of the State of New York without regard to its principles of conflicts of laws, and shall not be modified in any way, unless pursuant to a written agreement which has been executed by each of the parties hereto. The parties agree that any and all disputes, controversies or claims arising out of or relating to this Agreement (including any breach hereof) shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the federal and state courts in New York County, New York and the parties hereby waive any defenses on the grounds of lack of personal jurisdiction of such courts, improper venue or forum non conveniens. The parties waive all right to trial by jury in any action, proceeding or counterclaim arising out of this Agreement.
- (h) Relationship. The Company agrees and acknowledges that Georgeslon shall be the primary information agent retained by the Company in connection with the Offer. This shall have no effect on the ability of Seritage Growth Properties to retain agents (information or otherwise) of their own.
- (i) Confidentiality. Georgeslon agrees to preserve the confidentiality of (i) all non-public information provided by the Company or its agents for Georgeslon's use in fulfilling its obligations hereunder and (ii) any information developed by Georgeslon based upon such non-public information (collectively, "Confidential Information"). For purposes of this Agreement, Confidential Information shall not be deemed to include any information which (w) is or becomes generally available to the public other than as a result of a disclosure by Georgeslon or any of its officers, directors, employees, agents or affiliates; (x) was available to Georgeslon on a nonconfidential basis and in accordance with law prior to its disclosure to Georgeslon by the Company; (y) becomes available to Georgeslon on a nonconfidential basis and in accordance with law from a person other than the Company or any of its officers, directors, employees, agents or affiliates who is not otherwise bound by a confidentiality agreement with the Company or is not otherwise prohibited from transmitting such information to a third party; or (z) was independently and lawfully developed by Georgeslon without access to the Confidential Information. The Company agrees that all reports, documents and other work product provided to the Company by Georgeslon pursuant to the terms of this Agreement are for the exclusive use of the Company and may not be disclosed to any other person or entity (other than Company representatives, employees and agents) without the prior written consent of Georgeson. The confidentiality obligations set forth in this paragraph shall survive the termination of this Agreement

- (j) Entire Agreement; Appendix. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings, both written and oral, between the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof. The Appendix to this Agreement shall be deemed to be incorporated herein by reference as if fully set forth herein. This Agreement shall be binding upon all successors to the Company (by operation of law or otherwise).
